Esmaker® survey- & analysis tool

Create tailored surveys, simple or advanced, no programming skills are required. ESMAKER offers maximal flexibility for the user and at the same time highest availability for the respondent

By simply clicking on some buttons you will find an impressive range of advanced functions that will facilitate your work.

Simplicity is most important...

Therefore ESMAKER doesn't require any previous knowledge. You feel comfortable using the program from the very first time and you are able to create simple or advanced surveys.

Implement without complications...

Integration with other programs such as Excel, SPSS and Matlab works conveniently both regarding import/export of raw data and complete surveys.

Functional and needs-oriented...

ESMAKER offers maximal flexibility in form of different question types such as one choice, multi choice, matrices, dropdowns, value sliders, picture-/ flash- and movie questions etc.

Flexible publishing/gathering of answers...

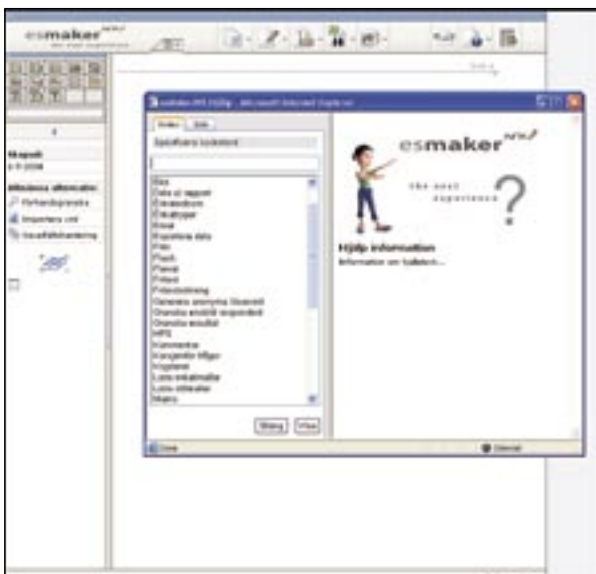

You can publish your surveys via homepage, laptop, touch screen and even paper format to assure that the survey is as available as possible for the target group.

Fast results...

Follow the survey in real time from the first to the last answer. Cross compare different questions and see changes over time with some simple clicks. Statistical reports and printouts can be presented in PDF, printed or directly sent to those concerned.

Full support

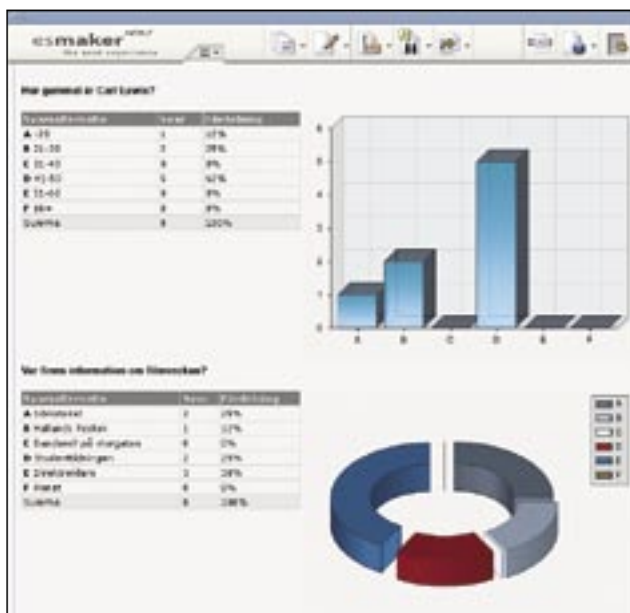

Updates that make ESMAKER more efficient are conducted continuously within all areas. Our customers also receive full support and education according to their individual needs (free of charge).
